

CALLING & COMMITMENT STATEMENT

ADOPTED BY THE COMMUNITY AT ASHA KIRAN

The calling for us, as individuals and as a community is:

To so abide in Christ and He in us and among us that we experience and make known His transforming love through our commitment to:

-  A way of life marked by simplicity, gentleness and self-denial
-  A quality of our common life and our inter-personal relationships
-  Love and care for all God's children and His creation.

We accept the commitment to:

1. Strive daily, and help each other, to "abide in Christ and He in us".
2. Value every person as a child of God for whom His wish is "life in all its fullness".
3. Commit our lives, individually and as a community, to a loving servant hood to the end that others may have healing, wholeness and the fullness of life.
4. Be a community characterised by unity and harmony through: acceptance, forgiveness, affirmation and trust.
5. Be a community of love and mutual dependability manifested in caring and sharing.
6. Accept responsibility to enable each among us to have, achieve and become the best that is possible.
7. Endeavour to live lives marked by integrity, simplicity, gentleness and self-denial.
8. Depend on the guidance of the Holy Spirit in all aspects of our life and work.
9. Seek and honour that guidance, especially through prayerful decision of our community.
10. Rely on God for all our resources, to use and to apply with utmost sense of stewardship and accountability.
